

Spring 2022

Leadership Development Seminar Heads to Santa Fe!

Board leaders from around the country are making plans to attend the 2022 Leadership Development Seminar in Santa Fe, New Mexico. From May 22-24, seminar facilitator Tim Harrington will guide participants through an agenda packed with actionable strategies acquired through board chairs' own inquiry and experiences. The program is focused on essential governance topics around a free flow of ideas from the group. Due to its popularity and limited space, registering early for this event is highly recommended.

Participants will explore various aspects of the board's role and responsibilities including:

- Distinguishing Between Governance vs. Operations
- Understanding the Supervisory Committee's Role
- Leading and Monitoring Success by Strategy
- Strengthening the Board's Governance Skills
- Ensuring an Effective Committee Structure
- Finding and Attracting Future Directors
- Running an Efficient Board Meeting
- Working Productively with the CEO
- Managing Difficult Directors

Spots are filling up quickly! Register today to join board leaders in Santa Fe!

"Board Fundamentals for New Directors"

Training new directors is essential for building a high-performing board. It's also key to keeping them engaged while helping them to understand their role. If your board has a new director or associate director in need of training, consider registering them for the Board Fundamentals course. This is a separate course from the Leadership Seminar and includes a networking lunch.

Scholarships Available for Small Credit Unions

Credit unions with less than $50 million in assets are invited to apply for a scholarship to attend the 2022 Leadership Development Seminar. Scholarships cover the Seminar registration fee and two nights lodging at the host hotel. For more details, please download the application linked below.

As Spring has arrived, we are looking forward to upcoming NACUC events. On May 22, in Santa Fe, New Mexico we are holding our first Board Fundamentals course for new directors. This program was developed by the NACUC Board at the request of a Task Force from last year. Tim Harrington, who presents our Leadership Development Seminar, is the instructor for this new course. We are excited to add it to our educational and learning opportunities for our members.

Remember, if your credit union belongs to NACUC all board members, including Associate Directors, are eligible to attend. This is a program developed to assist new directors in key areas including: understanding the differences between credit unions and banks, effectively communicating with board members, fostering the relationship between board and CEO, and the duties and responsibilities of a board member. Check the NACUC website for details and registration. At the same time, May 22-24, we will be holding our Leadership Development Seminar.

Our biennial CEO Compensation and Benefits Report is also available to participating members for free and to all others for a fee. This is a compensation report prepared by NACUC staff using information collected from credit unions nationwide. The data is collected directly from the credit union, and in most cases verified by the chair, while the data from executive organizations may come from secondary sources.

This is also the time of year when we follow up with lapsed members. This often happens as the result of an oversight or after a change in leadership. If you have not yet renewed, please contact your credit union to make sure your membership is current. Remember, if a credit union belongs to NACUC, all board members are eligible to participate in our activities.
